SPORTING CLAYS ALL WINTER

The weather may be getting colder, but the sporting clays action will be getting hotter all winter long!! This winter CF&G will offer sporting clays through the woods every other week until spring. That's right, no more humdrum winters. We will be sizzling with the hot winter sporting clays action at CF&G. Don't miss it!!!!

NOMINATION COMMITTEE ANNOUNCEMENT

Attached to this newsletter is the Nomination Committee's meeting results provided to me by the committee. This is a proposed slate of nominations for the upcoming elections of club officers and directors. All nominations for officers and directors must be made at the November meeting. Once nominations have been accepted and closed at the November meeting, the nominated candidates will then be voted on at the December meeting. This year there are four directors and four officers (President, Vice President, Treasurer, and Secretary) up for election. You have the power to control your club's destiny – Get out and be heard – VOTE!!

MEMBERSHIP INCREASING

I know what your thinking, but don't panic. It's not the price of membership that's going up, it's the total number of members that's increasing. That's right, recently your club has increased its membership base with some new members. This can be attributed to many reasons such as: very little wait time for shooting, cleanliness of the facilities, special shoots and lunches, terrific target presentations, and last but not least, the beautiful article that was written about the club in the Utica Observer Dispatch GO! Section on October 28th. If you didn't see the article there is a copy floating around the clubhouse. The more people we can get to join the club and get involved in the shooting sports, the better off we will be for the future. More involvement means a stronger voice and longer life for your club, and your rights to enjoy the shooting sports.

5-STAND TOWER NEARLY COMPLETE

Special thanks goes out to Dave Parda and to all those who helped him work on the new 5-stand tower. The tower replaces the old trailer that sat out by the rifle range. For all you 5-stand shooters, you call it the #5 trap, or the incomer target. Thanks to Dave's innovative design, we can now throw various assortments of angles and heights that will challenge even the best shooters. 5-Stand will be shot every weekend that the woods sporting clays course is not being shot.

NEED SOME COMPONENTS? ORDER NOW

If you need some reloading components and you want to order them through the club you need to do it now. Contact Dave Parda and he can add you to the component order he is compiling. The order will be placed soon though, so don't wait a minute longer, get your order in today. Save yourself some dough and order through the club.

VOTE TO CONTROL YOUR CLUB'S FUTURE

Two of the most important and powerful rights you have as a member of the Clinton Fish & Game Club are your right to vote, and your right for your ideas to be heard. But for your vote and your voice to be heard you must participate. Don't think that a few can carry the weight for you – Many are strong, few are weak. Don't let another day slip away without making an effort to participate and be heard. If you want to see something happen, you need to insure it will happen by making your ideas known, and by getting your vote in. If you want to have a say in your club's future, get out and vote for it!! Remember, November and December are the months to be heard, and to be counted!!!

Nomination committee meeting

Members:

Bruce Wellman

Manny Clothakis

Bruce Cowen

Warren Williams Absent

Ray Majka

Warren Williams could not make the meeting due to previous commitment and stated to commence with meeting without him.

A slate of prospective nominations was discussed. The names submitted for the positions were derived from members requests.

One present board member (Bruce Cowen) volunteered to run for reelection and was present at nomination committee meeting, he was placed on slate. Note: all members present agreed to the nominations on the slate.

Nomination committee members consensus was anyone that is presently holding a position and are not on the impending slate, that they can be nominated from the floor (November meeting). It will then be up to the membership to decide and vote for their choice.
